

XXII 2019 Workshop in International Economics and Finance

The XXII 2019 Workshop in International Economics and Finance organized by Universidad Torcuato Di Tella, the World BankLAC Chief Economist Office, the Inter-American Development Bank's Research Department, LACEA and the Bank of Jamaica will be held in Kingston on March 18 and 19, 2019.

The workshop is a unique event that brings together top researchers and policymakers from the North and the South to discuss recent theoretical and empirical advances in International Economics and Finance. The goal of the meeting is to gain a better understanding of the macroeconomic problems faced by Latin American countries and to encourage research on those subjects. We will discuss approximately ten academic papers in closed seminar-style sessions; some sessions of a less technical nature will be open to a broader audience.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS:

- Papers must be submitted in English and in PDF format through this link.
- The deadline for submitting papers for this event is December 21st, 2018.
- The program will be posted on the workshop's web site www.utdt.edu/ief-workshop, by January 11th, 2019.

We welcome papers on International Economics, Macroeconomics and Finance that address issues of relevance for the economies of Latin America. Topics of special interest include (but are not limited to!):

- Inflation targeting and monetary policy in emerging economies.
- Capital flows to emerging economies and US monetary policy.
- Natural disasters and catastrophic insurance.
- Multilateral versus bilateral trade and financial agreements.
- Global financial architecture.

The papers to be presented in the academic sessions will be selected by a program committee whose members include:

Emilio Espino, Universidad Torcuato Di Tella
Andrés Fernández, Inter-American Development Bank
Andrés Neumeyer, Universidad Torcuato di Tella
Andrew Powell, Inter-American Development Bank
Paulina Restrepo-Echavarría, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis
Ana María Santacreu, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis
Carlos Végh, The World Bank
